Hi Brian:

Thanks for spending time to revise the manuscript according to reviewer suggestions.

I agree that the suggestion to estimate two different b coefficients is out of scope for the revised manuscript. Adding in a new paragraph in the discussion to propose this as a future study has merit. You might want to preface this paragraph with a statement that indicates it is motivated by a suggestion from an anonymous reviewer.

You did a good job of responding to all other reviewer suggestions.

There is a typo in your response to reviewer two for L1423: Additional description of the methods has been added to this section.

Also, some of the references deleted from text have not been deleted from the reference list.

Finally, you might want to accept all changes in the revised manuscript and read through one more time to make sure there are no formatting errors or other mistakes that weren't fixed.

Sincerely,
David
